The City of Richmond permits the keeping of up to six (6) hens in all residential districts of the city. If you are interested in keeping chickens, please carefully review the information in this brochure. A permit is required to raise chickens in your yard, and this brochure provides valuable information on how to apply for a permit, regulations that pertain to pens, coops and the care of the chickens.

BASIC INFORMATION

- Chicken ownership shall be permissible in all residential districts in the City of Richmond.
- Persons seeking a chicken permit must either own the property or obtain the written approval of the property owner.
- A maximum of 6 female chickens will be allowed per property.
- Roosters and English Gamecocks are prohibited in the City of Richmond.

PROGRAM DETAILS

- Owners shall provide 3 square feet of space for each chicken to allow for the humane keeping of the chickens.
- Chickens and the pen or fenced areas or coop(s) may not be located within 15 feet of any adjacent dwelling(s).

- The pen or fenced area must be located in the rear of the property; not in a front or street side yard. Coop(s) or any other structure(s) shall be located within any required yard. To obtain required yard (setback) information e-mail the Zoning Division at DCDZoningAdministration@Richmondgov.com or call (804) 646-6701 prior to applying.
- The chicken permit application will only be issued after an on-site inspection and a review of the distance requirements.
- The coop/pen area shall consist of four walls and a roof.
- The coop/coop area shall be fully covered, fenced with no fencing slats greater than 2 inches apart.
- Chickens shall remain within the fenced coop area at all times.
- Feed must be stored in secure rodent proof containers.

PERMIT APPLICATION DETAILS

- A permit is required to keep chickens. The non-refundable application fee is $60.00. The permit is valid for one (1) year.
- The permit must be renewed annually and the renewal fee is also $60.00.

The permit/license process includes:

- Submission of a site plan and completion of a chicken permit application
- A background check as well as an investigation for prior cruelty or neglect violations.
- Review of the application by Richmond Animal Care & Control.
- On-site inspection of the chicken pen area and coop(s).

The permit can be revoked at any time by Animal Care & Control (ACC) upon the verification of any violation of ownership guidelines and ACC reserves the right to revoke any permit for violation of permit provisions or condition and/or relevant City Code sections.

Any neglect or harm of the chickens may result in immediate seizure by Richmond Animal Care & Control and charges may be filed with the Commonwealth Attorney's Office.

Applicant shall sign that they have read and reviewed provisions of the City Code concerning urban chickens as well as supplemental information regarding poultry handling

The applicant agrees that Animal Care & Control has the right to inspect the pen, coop(s) and chickens at any time without notice.

Owners shall be subject to animal cruelty provisions of City Code 4-96.
